The staff at the customer service desk will also be able to assist patrons with sign in procedures. Visitors that do not have a library card will be given a guest pass. Parents are advised to supervise their children's Internet sessions.

Each patron is allowed a maximum of 2 hours per day on the computer. If there are people waiting to utilize the computer; patrons are only allowed 1 hour. If a patron has been removed from the computer after a one-hour period they will be allowed to log back in and continue use of the computer until the two hours have been utilized. The library will not be held accountable for anything that gets deleted on the computer.

Faxing and scanning services are also available to the public. Personal Flash drives and other storage media can be used on the computers. Library staff reserves the right to ask you to leave the library and revoke computer privileges if rules are not abided by.

Acceptable Internet Use Policy

The Library Computers are provided as a privilege for patron and visitors to access information far beyond the Library's own collections. The Internet is a gateway to information of great diversity in many countries and cultures around the world. Because of its international character, however, there is no external monitoring of the Internet.

While most of the information accessed can be valuable and enlightening, the user may also find materials that are unreliable, personally offensive, or illegal under U.S. law. The Library cannot police a global network and each individual user must take responsibility for his or her own activities on the Internet and for the activities of his or her children.

All Internet resources accessible through the Library are provided equally to all Library customers. It is the responsibility of each user to be guided by the following principles:

- Respect for the privacy and sensibilities of other users.
- Attention to the legal protection provided by copyright and license to programs and data.
- Consideration for the integrity of computing systems. For example, users must not intentionally develop programs to harass other users or to infiltrate a computer or computing system, or develop programs that may damage or alter the software components of this or other computing systems.
- Damaging or destroying equipment, software, or data belonging to the Library or to other users, including adding, altering, or deleting files on Library workstation hard drives or other Library computer equipment.
- Violating computer system or network integrity, including attempts to bypass network security functions, obtain passwords, or alter the configuration of Library workstations in any way or “hacking”
- Harassing, attempting to interfere with or disrupt other users
- Wasting finite resources (including printing without paying)
- Damaging or destroying equipment, software or data belonging to the library or to other users
- Violating software license agreements
- Violation of copyrighted material. (i.e.: Unauthorized copying of copyrighted material.)
- Using the internet for any illegal activity
- attempting to evade security measures
- invading the privacy of other users
- attracting the attention of others to sexually explicit images depicted on the screen or in copies made on Library printers;
- sending harassing, threatening or libelous messages or material
- Accessing peer to peer (P2P), torrent, or other file sharing sites are not allowed.
- Installation of programs or new software onto the computers is strictly prohibited.

Wi-Fi Access

The Waller County Library offers wireless (Wi-Fi) Internet access free of charge, with no guarantee or warranty. This service is available during the hours the library is open.

Patrons will need to provide their own equipment which includes a laptop or suitable PDA equipped with an IEEE 802.11b or 802.11g wireless network card. Newer laptops have wireless cards built-in. For most others, a compatible card can be purchased at computer stores. Patrons will need to enter a password which will be given to patron from Staff at the customer service desk.

Communications over a wireless network are less secure than through a hard-wired network. Information sent from or to a laptop can be captured by anyone with a wireless device and appropriate software within approximately three hundred feet. It is recommended that patrons do not use such a network to transmit personal, financial, legal or other sensitive information. The wireless service is used entirely at the risk of the owner.

Laptops, PDAs, phones, personal belonging should NOT be left unattended. The Waller County Library assumes no responsibility for any laptop or other belonging left unattended.

§43.22 of the Texas Penal Code prohibits the intentional or knowing display of an obscene photograph, drawing, or visual representation, while being reckless about whether a person is present who will be offended or alarmed by the display.

§43.24 of the Texas Penal Code prohibits the display of harmful material, defined in the law similarly to indecent material under federal law, if the displayer is reckless about whether a minor is present who will be offended or alarmed by the display.

For more information, see the complete text of Sections 43.22 and 43.24 of the Texas Penal Code.

Printing & Copying Policy

It is your responsibility to pay for all prints, even those printed accidentally to any of the printers (i.e. Epson color printer). Patrons are encouraged to ask for help from the library staff before printing to avoid wasting paper and money.

Security Deposit

A Security Deposit of $100.00 (one hundred dollars) will be required under the Meeting Room Agreement, as determined by the Waller County Library System. The Security Deposit will be held until after the end of the Rental Term and returned to the Renter within 21 days after the end of the Rental Term. The Library may withhold a portion or all of the Security Deposit to cover the cost of clean-up, repairs, replacement, or other damages. Any violation of the Meeting Room Agreement or Rules and Regulations may result in partial or complete forfeiture of the Security Deposit. The amount of the Security Deposit does not limit the liability of the organization for any damage or loss suffered by the County.
